Argentine optical cable trays are resistant to low temperatures

	Low-temperature PVC outer jacket (J-Jacket) provides excellent performance and flexibility at low temperatures Wide operating temperature range of -50oC to +75oC
	AIRGUARD® XP cables are extremely rugged, indoor/outdoor loose tube cables providing unsurpassed performance in the most challenging applications where extreme exposures to chemicals, oils, ...
	Best Practices: Use flexible cables to avoid breakage, install heated cable trays in critical areas, and test fibers for low-temperature performance before deployment.
	Cable damage may occur if installation temperature limits are exceeded; therefore, Prysmian Group recommends storing I/O cables in appropriate temperature conditions ≥ 24 hours prior to placement.
	These temperatures are hardly arctic but are low enough to require steel cable tray to be over designed by 20 to 50% to compensate for the decreased ductility, especially on long spans.
